Belle Glade city employees to get 5% pay raise

By BRENDA BUNTING
SUN Editor

Employees in the City of Belle Glade will take home a fatter paycheck beginning in October, according to Finance Director Bill Underwood.

City commissioners agreed to give employees a five percent pay raise in this year's budget. Cost-of-living raises were not given last year because the city could not afford the pay increases.

An increase in property assessments has helped the city to have more money this year, according to Mr. Underwood. Property assessments went up for the first time in five years, giving the city an approximate $90,000 more in revenue.

The millage rate will remain 9.4057 percent per $1,000 of taxable property value, the same as last year, but homeowners could pay as much as 7.7 percent more in taxes if their home is valued higher than last year.

City officials also voted Monday night to provide early retirement options to officers at the police department. They voted two weeks ago to offer the same package to city employees.

Commissioner Steve Weeks opposed the early retirement, saying he feared many good employees would take the option to retire early, leaving the city without their expertise.

U-Save has had a presence in the Belle Glade market since 1964, and its existing store at 524 S.E. Avenue E, Belle Glade employs approximately 60 people as well. The new Belle Glade U-Save store is expected to open in early October 1993.

Residents of Shive Island complaining about crime

By David Ranieri
SUN Reporter

Crime was on the minds of Shive Island residents at the Pahokee City Commission meeting Tuesday night.

About twelve people were attendance, many of them from Shive Island who complained about having their houses robbed and fighting in the area.

Anita Corama of Shive Island wanted to know about the commissioners plans to improve the area.

She was concerned that if the commission planned to put park benches and plant trees in the area that would encourage people to hang around and cause further problems.

Mayor Ramon Horta and city commissioners assured her that the intentions of the commissioners were to improve the area for the betterment of local residents and that they would not place park benches, trees or shrubs that would encourage trouble makers to hang out in the area.

the area.

The following items were also discussed at the commission meeting:

- The city has set its preliminary millage rate at 10.
- Commissioners passed a resolution to support mutual aid agreements among local governments during hurricane threats.
- The city will re-submit an historic grant application. The monies, if approved, will be used for renovations for the Prince Theater.
- The city passed an interlocal agreement with Palm Beach County on the proposed six percent gas tax. If the gas tax is passed the city will use the monies for road improvements. City Manager Ken Schenck said the agreement will bring an estimated $180,000 into the city.

Also discussed was the cable television ordinance. The stipulation in the city's contract with the Cable Vision Industries is that the company does not have to provide everyone in the City of Pahokee access to cable.

Mediated SWIM plan offers more benefits than original plan

Part III

By TWILA VALENTINE

In a recent news release, the South Florida Water Management District detailed the mediated plan that was developed by the district, agricultural interests, state and federal representatives.

The mediated plan improves and expands on the original clean up concept embodied in the Everglades SWIM Plan. The following are the highlights of the results of the eight months of mediation.

The mediated plan:

- was developed by a broad-based technical working group under the guidance of an environmental mediator, and comprised of environmental and agricultural interests, state and federal agencies, Indian tribes, and other stakeholders concerned with the future of the Everglades
- expands and enhances the original Everglades Surface Water Improvement and Management (SWIM) Plan; and
- is similar to the SWIM Plan in that its key features are still the creation of Stormwater Treatment Areas (STAs) to filter agricultural runoff before it reaches the Everglades and on-site Best Management Practices to reduce agricultural phosphorus at the source.

The mediated plan provides the following benefits in addition to those outlined in the original SWIM plan:

- coverage of a greater land area - including portions of the 711-square-mile "Western Basins" west of the EAA - with more capacity to treat agricultural stormwater runoff;
- improved hydroperiod and sheetflow to the Everglades

Water Conservation Areas, as it routes 270,000 additional acre feet per year of treated water south to the conservation areas which today is not reaching those areas;

• diversion south and treatment of stormwater from four special drainage districts that about Lake Okeechobee - water which today is discharged into the lake;

• increased protection to the St. Lucie, Caloosahatchee and Lake Worth estuaries as "unwashed" fresh water discharges which today are going into these water bodies will be treated in STAs and sent south to the Everglades to improve sheetflow and hydroperiod; and

• improved flood control and drainage for urbanized areas of western Palm Beach County as water which today is discharged into the C-51 canal will be treated in STAs and discharged into the Everglades to improve hydroperiod and sheetflow. Both mediated and SWIM plans provide monitoring and research, restoration and clean up programs for the Everglades. The main differences between the two are that the mediated plan treats more stormwater runoff, covers a larger land area, provides greater hydroperiod and sheetflow to the Everglades, and provides several other environmental and flood control benefits.

Renovations look good

I just want to comment on the renovations to the old Pahokee High School.

I think this was a great idea and the citizens of Pahokee should be grateful to have this facility in our city.

It gives the youth of our community some-where to go without getting into trouble and gives parents a place where their children can go and have a good time.

Pahokee needs more of these types of operation because we do not have a public swimming pool or any place where our children can go and enjoy themselves.

I just wanted to compliment the city officials for having the vision to offer this to our residents.

Thank you for letting me Speak Out.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

I want to call your attention to an important publication recently released by The Heritage Foundation, the Index of Leading Cultural Indicators. Written by William Bennett, the Index is a comprehensive statistical portrait of behavioral trends over the last 30 years.

It shows, for example, that while population has increased 41 percent since 1960, violent crime has increased 560 percent; illegitimate births have increased more than 400 percent; divorce rates have quadrupled; the percentage of children living in single-parent homes has tripled, and the teenage suicide rate has increased more than 200 percent.

As a member of The Heritage Foundation, I am eager to see the facts in this document given wide publicity. Only if we admit we are in a crisis of values can we begin to reverse our cultural decline.

You may already have received a copy of the Index. If so, I urge you to keep it on hand and use it as a resource. If you haven't yet seen it, you can obtain a copy by calling The Heritage Foundation's Publications Office at 202-546-4400.

Sincerely,

Mr. M. Shifman

Guest commentary

A message from Congressman Alcee Hastings

When I ran for Congress, I vowed to attack the budget deficit. After I was elected, people told me that when I went to Washington I was going to make tough choices. They must have had the President's budget reconciliation package in mind.

The development of the final budget was not a simple process. Try to imagine nearly six hundred individuals developing one master solution to the nation's most crippling dilemma. You end up with nearly six hundred different strategies. There were many battles -- and I was among the fighters.

From day one I sought to protect Social Security, Medicare, and small business development from the scalpel. But I also realized that in keeping with my original promise to trim the deficit, some sacrifices had to be made.

How, I wondered, upon first examining the package, could I support a proposal that will increase taxes and cut the sacred Florida-prominent Medicare program? As I studied the package further, and watched the Conference Committee iron out the details of the final version, I realized that the brave thing to do was to vote for the Clinton plan.

While I did receive many complaints from constituents, I realized that this, the largest deficit reduction package in history, provides many valuable benefits for Florida.

In Florida, 267,000 children are currently provided with pre-school immunizations by the Medicaid program.

With the passage of the President's package, an additional 200,000 children will be reached, thereby doubling the number of indigent children protected from disease. Similarly, with the passage of the package 1,482,166 more Floridians will receive Food Stamps under the $2.5 billion Mickey Leland Child hunger program.

Florida will receive $624 million over four years for schools and children's programs such as the Child Preservation Act.

This program will address the growing incidence of child abuse and neglect by providing early intervention and preventive services, making improvements in the foster care, adoption and child welfare systems. It will also improve the quality of services available to children who must be removed from their homes.

The Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) will reward work with an expanded refundable tax credit for low-income employees.

The $20.8 billion EITC program will help lift many families out of poverty by allowing an adjustment in benefits for family size, while still extending assistance to childless workers, and simplifying the qualification process for full-level benefits.

The EITC will provide tax rebates for working people earning less than $27,000. Under the Clinton plan, over ten million working families with children nationwide will receive a tax credit. The EITC is pro-work and pro-family.

The House-Senate compromise plan will raise the threshold on which Social Security benefits are taxed. An earlier version called for taxing 85 percent of Social Security benefits for individuals with incomes over $25,000 and couples over $32,000.

I, along with the Florida delegation, fought long and hard to raise that threshold to $34,000.

for individuals and $44,000 for couples.

The President's plan will create over eight million jobs over the next four years. Florida will gain over one million new jobs through the tax incentives for business investment. Small businesses will receive tax deductions for business equipment purchases. This investment will enable start-up businesses to provide quality services.

Florida also stands to gain over $1 billion for worker training and higher education investments programs such as guaranteed direct student loans.

Empowerment zones will be created to help rebuild America's cities and offer new opportunity to both urban and rural distressed areas. By providing an Empowerment Zone Employer's Tax Credit, the Clinton measure encourages businesses to locate in, and to offer employment opportunities to, residents of our nation's most distressed communities.

The package also permanently extends the low-income housing credit. In the past, this tax credit contributed to the development of more than 420,000 rental apartments for families earning less than 60 percent of the median income. This permanent extension will have the dual effect of encouraging even more development and creating new jobs.

However, I am still very concerned about cuts to the Medicare program. The burden placed on the hospitals where most of the patients are Medicare beneficiaries (South Florida has many of these hospitals) is too severe.

The repercussions of dramatic cuts will be felt by the hospitals who will shift the burden on to non-Medicare patients. This is unacceptable. Therefore, when Congress returns from the summer recess, I will seek a legislative remedy to ease the suffering of the high Medicare hospitals and protect individual patients.

And contrary to the naysayers, the package does contain hard-hitting spending cuts.

These cuts come from all areas of the government, but a few examples include: $125 billion in military spending over five years, $11 billion in federal administrative costs, $1.2 billion in subsidies for nuclear waste utilities, and more than $1 billion by eliminating waste in public housing programs.

For every $10 of deficit reduction, more than $5 comes from spending cuts, and $4 comes from taxes from the most well-off. That means that less than $1 (10 percent) comes from taxes on anyone who makes less than $115,000. And we will trim nearly $500 billion from our national debt over five years.

The revenue will be placed in the Federal Deficit Reduction Trust Fund and will not be spent on anything other than healing our deficit.

I would like to say to those who opposed the package, there was no alternative. To fulfill my campaign pledge to reduce the deficit and protect the interest of my people, I had to make the choice which I know may alienate some voters. If they choose not to support me next year, that is their prerogative.

Do I think the proposal is perfect? Certainly not, and believe me, when I return in September the leadership will hear more about the needs of the 23rd District of Florida. But this package is the first step.

Sincerely,
Alcee L. Hastings
Member of Congress

EVEN IT UP! Winn-Dixie Cares.
The serious destruction that has happened to the Midwest flood victims defines words. These people are the reason Winn-Dixie is saying Even It Up. The proceeds of this program will allow the Salvation Army to give relief to the Midwest flood disaster people. The next time you shop at any Winn-Dixie store just ask the cashier to Even Up your total to the next dollar or five dollars. Whatever you wish to donate will be a tremendous help to many of those who so greatly helped us in our time of desperate need in South Florida.

Pahokee High to open Air Force Junior ROTC unit

Pahokee Middle/Senior High School will open a new Air Force Junior ROTC unit this fall.

The unit is part of the nationwide expansion of Air Force, Army, Marine Corps and Navy JROTC. By 1996, the number of JROTC units will increase from 1,500 to 2,900.

The Air Force, which currently has 320 units, will open 107 new units this year and plans to have a total of 609 units by the end of 1996.

Junior ROTC is a citizenship and leadership training program taught by retired officers and non-commissioned officers and focuses on motivating students to become better citizens.

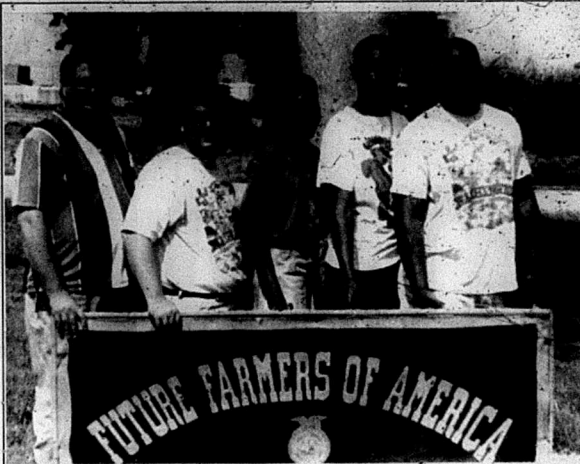

"Unlike high school courses, Air Force Junior ROTC is a program for building self-esteem through a solid academic course and extra-curricular activities geared to building individual responsibility," said Kenneth Daly, chief of the Air Force Junior ROTC program, headquartered at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama. "The program offers young people a place to belong and excel and provides post high school opportunities in the way of enlistment with advanced opportunities."

Cadets receive credit towards high school graduation by attending classes which are a combination of aerospace science and leadership education. Classes will be taught by retired Air Force Colonel Charles Heltsley and senior master Ken Law are full-time faculty members at Pahokee Middle/Senior High School.

Subjects the cadets will have the opportunity to study include the heritage of flight and navigation, aerospace vehicles, rocketry propulsion, space travel and aviation careers.

Students will also be introduced to military customs and courtesies, flag etiquette, basic drill and ceremonies, leadership and management, human relations and communications skills. Uniforms and books are provided by the Air Force.

To reinforce what is learned in the classroom, cadets will be participating in many outside activities such as field trips to military bases, aerospace facilities, museum, aerospace industries and civilian airports, parades, summer leadership schools, drill team competitions, color and honor guard, military balls and honorary academic groups.

Local FFA members attend national conference

Ella Loeu, Jason Adams, Robert Lee Newkirk, Robert Hammonds and advisor Michael Thompson of the Belle Glade FFA Chapter attended the 1993 Washington Conference Program in the nation's capital.

The week-long program helps FFA members improve leadership skills, develop an understanding of national heritage and prepare for more effective leadership roles in their chapters and communities.

Sessions on human relations, goal setting and interpersonal communications were combined with discussions on personal outlook, motivation and values to help members become effective leaders in the science, business and technology of agriculture.

Visits to Mount Vernon, the Smithsonian Institute, Arlington National Cemetery, the Jefferson Memorial and other historical sights in Washington were included in the conference.

A highlight of the week was the visit to the offices of Congressman Tom Lewis and Senators Connie Mack and Bob Graham.

Over 170 students attended the conference, which included students from Russia and Guam.

The trip to the conference was sponsored by Belle Glade FFA.

"This was a tremendous experience for the kids because they got to meet new people," said Thompson.

Glades board announces grants

The Glades Community Board met on June 3 to review and approve the criteria for its Cyclical Seed Grants. The grants are an additional component of the project's overall effort to enable the residents of the Glades community to design and implement sustainable solutions to support community initiated efforts.

"This announcements is the second step in our two tier grant making efforts," said Juanita Malone, Chairman of the Glades Community Board. "We are excited about the potential these funds can have on our community."

The board will open competition for funding in the areas of youth, health and economic development to any organization or agency under section 501 (c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Competition is open only to providers within the project strategic area: Pahokee, South Bay and Pahokee.
